

November 2010

Wave of new clients

Technicost consolidates its presence on the market following the signing of agreements for several new projects with credit unions. In concrete terms, this means a dozen or so implementations from now until year's end and early in 2011.

Our team is delighted by this success, confirming the quality of updates made to the previous version.